

Space Weather & The X Factors

“Through basic education and awareness campaigns, the general public can achieve a higher science and space literacy and cognitive resilience that would prepare them and prevent undesired social consequences of such a profound discovery [extraterrestrial life] and paradigm shift concerning humankind’s position in the universe.”

Global Risks: Davos 2013 - X Factors

World Economic Forum: Reports 2013

<http://reports.weforum.org/global-risks-2013/section-five/x-factors/>

Hello Joyfire Supporter!

There is some very important news from The World Economic Forum that took place 23 - 27 January 2013, in Davos, Switzerland. It seems that world leaders have reached the conclusion that humanity are facing a paradigm shift. From the Executive Summary of the Global Risks Special Report, we are presented with the notion that leaders must ensure that countries prepare for global risks that are seemingly beyond its control or influence. Developed in partnership with the editors of Nature, a leading science journal, “X Factors” are presented that look beyond the landscape of the usual set of 50 global risks to alert decision-makers to five emerging game-changers. These are presented as:

- Runaway climate change: Is it possible that we have already passed a point of no return and that Earth’s atmosphere is tipping rapidly into an inhospitable state?
- Significant cognitive enhancement: Ethical dilemmas akin to doping in sports could start to extend into daily working life; an arms race in the neural “enhancement” of combat troops could also ensue.

- Rogue deployment of geoengineering: Technology is now being developed to manipulate the climate; a state or private individual could use it unilaterally.
- Costs of living longer: Medical advances are prolonging life, but long-term palliative care is expensive. Covering the costs associated with old age could be a struggle.
- Discovery of alien life: Proof of life elsewhere in the universe could have profound psychological implications for human belief systems.

Source: Executive Summary: Global Risks 2013, X Factors, Davos 2013
<http://reports.weforum.org/global-risks-2013/section-one/executive-summary/>

On examination, most of these X Factors are related one way or another to Space Weather and rapid evolutionary change. This is really a shock and awe moment as our world leaders have basically accepted the reality of the transformation of our world and the metaphysical concept of the veil lifting... The technical term used was X factors being “game-changers”... Moreover, this Davos 2013 report makes it very clear that the general public needs to be re-educated by the promotion of science and “space literacy” campaigns. Since press releases from various space agencies in recent years are making it very clear that the issue of Space Weather is becoming very serious what else could “space literacy” represent besides Space Weather?

Furthermore, amongst business leaders, politicians and central bankers, it was reported that a representative from the Vatican, the archbishop of Ireland, Diarmuid Martin (who has attended more Davos meetings than any other Irishman since his days in the Vatican) was in attendance. He was asked to provide a talk on ‘X factors; Preparing For The Unknown’. It must be understood that the Vatican are in a unique position as they have vast archives of ancient manuscripts and a tradition of understanding the existence of long astronomical cycles that affect life on Earth. In medieval times, priests were picked from scholars who had studied astronomy before they were allowed to become theologians or philosophers. Today, it is clear that the astronomical tradition has been maintained with state-of-the-art astronomical observatories and a strong working relationship with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA).

In recent years, the Vatican have been sponsoring astrobiology conferences showing that it is willing to officially sanction public discussions on the existence of extraterrestrial life. More significantly, it showed that the Vatican was willing to initiate a comprehensive dialogue on the theological implications of the discovery of intelligent extraterrestrial life. As it has been reported: “The Vatican’s astrobiology conference is yet one more sign that major global institutions are preparing for some kind of formal disclosure concerning UFOs and/or extraterrestrial life. This is a direct outcome of a series of landmark meetings at the UN beginning in February 2008 that led to the adoption of a new openness policy.” Source: Vatican prepares for extraterrestrial disclosure <http://www.examiner.com/article/vatican-prepares-for-extraterrestrial-disclosure>

Section 5 of the Davos 2013 Global Risks Special Report, titled: 'X Factors: Discovery of Alien Life', makes it clear that there is a need to prepare the public for the existence of alien lifeforms. Specifically the document states:

“Over the long term, the psychological and philosophical implications of the discovery could be profound. If life forms (even fossilized life forms) are found in our solar system, for example, the origin of life is “easy” - that any place in the universe life can emerge, it will emerge. It will suggest that life is as natural and as ubiquitous a part of the universe as the stars and galaxies. The discovery of even simple life would fuel speculation about the existence of other intelligent beings and challenge many assumptions that underpin human philosophy and religion.”

In this regard, Vatican astronomers have some very strong views. They accept the existence of extraterrestrials and Shadow Life. In a very interesting interview given by Adriano Forgione, Editor-In-Chief of two Italian UFO Magazines, 'Dossier Alieni' and 'UFO Network' with Vatican Priest Corrado Balducci, in 1999 we are told:

“I must start by saying that angels do not use spaceships. As purely spiritual beings, they are where they want to be and if they wanted to show themselves, they wouldn't have any trouble taking on visible forms. So, when we talk about extraterrestrials, we have to think either of beings like us or, preferably, other types of beings who always combine a spiritual part with a material part, a body, even though they have a different relationship compared with us terrestrial humans.

Nowadays, science accepts the existence of forms of life in the cosmos, even though it doesn't want to take into account the fact that these intelligences could already be here in our planetary sphere, at least in an obvious form.”

Source: Many saints believed in extraterrestrial life: Vatican Monsignor
<http://www.ufodigest.com/vaticanufos.html>

Due to the research made public by scientists in various countries that include Norway, Australia and Italy, it is known that Shadow Life or a Shadow Biosphere made up of plasma entities does exist on this planet and insights from important research can be downloaded from the internet for free by anyone prepared to look. SETV (Search for Extraterrestrial Visitation) have identified 35 “hotspots” over the globe and there have been aspirations to set up “open air laboratories” in 30 locations. The official thinking has been that ET probes could be hiding inside plasma orbs and that is a good enough excuse for funding. Now, the problem is that since scientists have been monitoring, the energetic shift on this planet has meant instead of isolated and remote areas, which have been known to host “light phenomena” for hundreds if not thousands of years, the “hotspots” are spreading all over the planet! Hence the need for awareness campaigns to educate the public.

Just to reinforce the seriousness of the claims made by Vatican astronomers and the co-operation of world leaders. It was reported at the very end of December 2012 that when a Sacramento man scanning the night sky caught a sudden burst of light through his telescope, CBS 4 News independently choose to contact a Vatican expert about this strange phenomena. There are many different agencies that could have been contacted in the United States, but a hotline had been set up to the Vatican which most would consider to be very strange. Thus, we can only conclude that new arrangements have been implemented to monitor our skies for strange atmospheric phenomena that could be related to the existence of 'angels'. On reflection, it seems that NASA officials have been quietly agreeing that we are not alone and the following entry comes from my News of the Imbalance Blog:

NASA Administrator Believes in Alien Life

WLTX, 7th February 2011 Flash Back!

Columbia, SC (WLTX) - It's a question man has been asking for centuries: are we alone and could there really be life out there somewhere. For some the answer is easy. They believe NASA knows that alien life exist and that we're being visited on a regular basis.

Clifford Clift is one such believer. "Maybe the powers that be are setting us up for disclosure, making it more subtle so it won't be a big jolt to us," he says. [...]

After talking with Charles Bolden, he seems it's not a matter of if we find out, it's a matter of when. Bolden said, "I have no doubt about things that will be discovered in the next year or so that will help us rewrite text books."

Comment: Well, Bolden certainly knows how to let the cat out of the bag.... if this report is true, then we can forget about a new discovery, the evidence has been in plain sight for many decades, in fact since the invention of radar... Well, if Bolden is prepared to make this statement, it makes you wonder why there is such effort by some to desperately fight the notion that humans are not alone. Please note: the astronaut talk is about alien LIFE not alien CRAFT. So, I might be on my own here, but I believe any announcement will be about a Shadow Biosphere, which is the sensible thing for NASA to do, as the dimensional shift is clearly still accelerating.

The only conclusion that can be made is that world leaders are preparing to disclose the existence of an alien lifeform, not necessarily humanoid extraterrestrials. By the constant drip drip of information, world controllers are supporting those educators who are most aware of what is happening on this planet and are willing to spread the news. By making it public knowledge that the Vatican are involved, we are being informed of what the nature of the disclosure will be. For researchers and Seekers of the Truth, it is apparent that the Vatican know that we have never been alone on this planet and they have been aware of this presence for a very long time according to their own bible translators who are now revealing what they have deduced whilst in possession of ancient manuscripts.

Other Important Space Weather News:

- ◆ Well, it seems that geoscientists have quietly been connecting the dots between space weather and changes in the interior of the Earth resulting in an increase in earthquakes and volcanic activity. Prof. Dr. Elchin Khalilov, Chairman of

World Forum - International Congress GEOCATACLYSM-2011, states ...we are at the beginning of the so-called “global energy leap” on our planet and in the Solar system in general. Source: Geocataclysm 2011 - WORLD FORUM ON NATURAL CATAclysms HAS FINISHED ITS WORK

◆ In October 2012 the European Space Agency announced that Earth’s magnetosphere (protective magnetic cosmic shield) has the property of a sieve. This explains a whole new plethora of scientific projects and new initiatives worldwide that are needed to combat the impact of Space Weather on our modern technological world. Source: Earth's Magnetosphere Behaves Like a Sieve

◆ Prof. Paul Song in the Department of Physics & Applied Physics, who directs UMass Lowell’s Center for Atmospheric Research (CAR) says, “Predicting space weather is the next frontier in weather forecasting.” Song is amongst other scientists who are now revealing that more energy is being fed into the atmosphere due to a weak magnetosphere and space weather, which is why we are likely to experience more extreme weather. Source: Study Will Explore How Solar Storms Affect Earth’s Atmosphere

I can say that I understood the implications of space weather and energy driven evolutionary change on this planet over 8 years ago and wrote my book Tuning the Diamonds: Electromagnetism & Spiritual Evolution that was placed in the UK National Archives in November 2007. I have been running a “basic education and awareness campaign” for 6 years on my website and I did not need anyone one to tell me what to do because I knew it was necessary. Serious help from professionals is still being sought.

The only certainty we have is change.

Please spread the message of Space Weather driving evolutionary change.

Thanks.

Susan Joy Rennison, B.Sc. Hons. (Physics with Geophysics)

www.susanrennison.com
www.joyfirepublishing.com

http://www.susanrennison.com/News\_oftheimbalance.php